the job ahead of us."

Rep. F. B. Manatt of Corning said he opposed the bill because it wouldn't produce enough money and that such tax measure "aren't worth a dime."

Most of Wednesday's debate came on a bill by Rep. J.B. Smith of Marianna to prevent distribution of liquor revenue to dry counties.

The stormy battle over the bill began when Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan was granted permission to attempt to amend the bill.

His amendment, which would have left taxes derived from parimutuel betting at Oaklawn Park in Hot Springs and Southland Park in West Memphis, was defeated.

Another amendment also met with defeat. It was offered by Rep. Sam Hasley and would have exempted residents from dry counties from paying taxes on the alcohol they purchased. "This is terrible, you boys from dry counties wanting to tear up my bill," Smith said. "You know we shouldn't put these silly amendments on it. This bill as drafted is great."

End Fighting, Peace Comes, Lodge Says

By STEPHENS BROENING

Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The United States warned North Vietnam and the Viet Cong today that a political settlement in Vietnam cannot be reached in an environment of violence.

Speaking at the fourth session of the enlarged peace talks, U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge also admonished his antagonists that "you cannot expect to achieve in these negotiations what you failed to achieve in South Vietnam." He was referring to the other side's demand for the overthrow of the Saigon government as a prerequisite for progress at the talks.

The atmosphere of deadlock continued without relief South Vietnam's representative delivered a 5,000-word statement repeating all his government's basic positions and accusing North Vietnam and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front of long-term aggression. The NLF's chief delegate, Tran Bui Kiem, reiterated the Viet Cong's terms: that the United States must "unconditionally" withdraw all troops and "those of satellite countries" from Vietnam and "allow the South Vietnamese people to settle their own affairs in accordance with the program of the NLF."

Lodge's statement was a reply to questions put to him by the other side last week demanding "yes or no" answers with regard to the basic claims of North Vietnam and the NLF. Lodge told them they had a fundamental misunderstanding of U.S. goals in Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

"The policy of the United States," he said, "is aimed at finding a stable and lasting peace in Vietnam and in Southeast Asia. The kind of peace we seek is one in which the South Vietnamese people will be assured of their fundamental national rights of self determination without external interference or coercion."

"It is difficult to foresee any political settlement in Vietnam based on genuine determination in an environment of violence caused by the massive presence and actions of outside forces. That is why we believe that if the South Vietnamese are to have a chance to shape their own destiny free from outside interference, we must arrange for the mutual withdrawal of all external forces from South Vietnam."

This echoed the U.S. statement made at the opening of the enlarged talks Jan. 25. Lodge added that as soon as "military and subversive forces" begin to withdraw on the other side, the American withdrawal will begin. He added that the United States has no desire or intention to impose a political solution on South Vietnam.

"Nor does it believe that such a solution should be imposed by Hanoi or anyone else," he added.

The United States contends that military de-escalation should precede talk of political issues. The other side wants the issues discussed simultaneously, with emphasis on the political.

Lodge said the Americans "recognize the importance of political issues in any lasting settlement," but he added that the first step to peace must be finding ways to separate the contending forces. He repeated his proposals for re-establishment of the demilitarized zone, mutual withdrawal of external forces and prisoner exchanges.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — James Joseph Packman, 61, who started newspaper work as a copyboy and later served as managing editor of the Milwaukee Sentinel, Newark Star Ledger and the old San Francisco Call-Bulletin, died Wednesday. He had worked for papers in Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles before going to the Sentinel in 1943.

SPARTA, N.J. (AP) — Joseph H. Forester, 79, Broadway and television producer, died Wednesday. Among shows he coproduced on Broadway were "Born Yesterday" and "The Happiest Millionaire."

Fatter is irrelevant to this trial. The prosecution called Dr. Fatter at the trial of Shaw, 55, the retired New Orleans businessman charged with conspiring with Lee Harvey Oswald, David W. Ferrie and others to kill Kennedy.

At Shaw's 1967 preliminary hearing, Dr. Fatter testified that through hypnosis he enabled Russo to subconsciously relive a September 1963 party at Ferrie's apartment where Russo allegedly overheard the plotting.

Dr. Fatter, a neat, gray-haired man wearing horn rimmed glasses, testified today hypnosis was a medical tool and said he objected to being called a hypnotist. "Using the name hypnotist for a doctor is like calling a lawyer a shyster," he said.

Earlier, postman James Hardiman testified under cross-examination that the "Clem Bertrand" letters he remembered were not actually forwarded to Clay Shaw but were addressed directly to 1414 Dauphine St.

Q. In other words the change of address order at the post office for Shaw had nothing to do with it (delivery of letters addressed to Clem Bertrand)?

A. Not with Bertrand. It was Mr. Shaw's letters that came forward.

Q. They were not sent to 1414 as a result of the change of address.

A. No, they hadn't. Hardiman, who walks a route in the French Quarter, testified Wednesday he delivered such letters to a temporary forwarding address given for Shaw in 1966.

"I don't know how many there were but I handled enough of them to recognize the name when it broke out in the news," he said.

"Clem Bertrand" is the alias the prosecution contends Shaw used in 1963 while conspiring to kill the President. Shaw denies having used the name.

"Did you note any return addresses?" asked Asst. Dist. Atty. James L. Alcock, who is handling prosecution of the Criminal District Court case for Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison.

"We hardly ever note return addresses," said Hardiman. "Unless they give a letter back to us."

Hardiman was the 20th witness called by the prosecution.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird disclosed today the Nixon administration review of Sentinel antiballistic missile defense plans includes possibly moving the missile sites from major population centers.

Laird declined to predict the outcome of the Sentinel review. But his remarks suggest the major question facing the administration is not whether, but how, an antiballistic missile defense should be deployed.

He was interviewed on the NBC television show, "Today." "This is one of the options being looked at, locating the Spartan missiles farther from cities," the defense chief said.

exemptions, and since opponents argue that the exemption repealer would prevent industry from coming to the state, "it's a wonder that all the industry in the United States isn't in Arkansas," Harvey said.

Harvey said after the vote that he might introduce similar exemption legislation, but not on the same scale. He said he would continue to fight to repeal exemptions and added that there might be a citizens effort to repeal the use tax exemptions by initiated act.

Harvey said Rockefeller was one governor who would be in a position to pass legislation of this type.

"This is the type of legislation where a man of Winthrop Rockefeller's stature could have taken the lead," the senator said.

131 Enemy Killed in Fighting

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — With the Viet Cong's lunar new year cease-fire only two days away, the U.S. Command today reported 131 North Vietnamese killed in two battles north east of Saigon, two U.S. helicopters lost and four damaged.

Allied personnel casualties in the two actions Wednesday were seven killed and 15 wounded. Five of the dead and 13 of the wounded were Americans.

The U.S. Command also reported slight decreases in the total number of Americans and South Vietnamese killed in action last week, and a considerable decrease in the number of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed.

The weekly casualty report said 183 Americans, 233 South Vietnamese and 2,264 of the enemy were killed in action, compared with 198 Americans, 242 South Vietnamese and 3,190 enemy the week before.

A total of 1,135 Americans were reported wounded last week, with 541 of them hospitalized. The report increased the total American casualties for the war to 31,562 killed and 199,689 wounded.

One of the battles reported today was triggered by a scout helicopter from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. As the chopper flew low along a tree line Wednesday to check a man moving on the ground, sudden heavy fire from the tree line brought it down. A second scout helicopter landed despite the heavy fire, and the crew chief found three dead crewmen and one wounded survivor. The crew chief carried the wounded man to his own helicopter but was wounded three times himself as he made the rescue.

The second helicopter was hit as it took off. It flew several hundred yards, then made a crash landing. Another helicopter came in and took the men out.

Meanwhile, an infantry platoon was lifted into the area to determine the size of the enemy force. The 30 gamerican ground troops estimated they were up against as many as 500 North Vietnamese; helicopters quickly pulled the outnumbered GIs out.

Thursday, February 13, 1969 of the area, and artillery, gunship helicopters and fighter-bombers went into action.

The two helicopters that were lost brought the U.S. total for the war to 2,359 destroyed by enemy action or other causes.

The North Vietnamese troops reportedly pulled back to one of their bases to the northwest near the Cambodian border 11 miles away. Sixty-four enemy bodies were counted after the air and artillery strikes, a spokesman said.

That battle took place 77 miles north of Saigon.

Guards Move to Wisconsin University

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — National Guard troops, 900 strong, moved into the Wisconsin capital late Wednesday night, ready if student disorders erupted again at the University of Wisconsin.

All was quiet when guardsmen, ordered to active duty by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, arrived in Madison. The troops were camped at the Dane County Coliseum and the state armory, both within 15 minutes drive of the 33,000-student campus.

Knowles, who said the state would keep the university "free of violence, threats and intimidations," had a news conference scheduled for today.

About 2,000 student protesters kept harried city police and deputy sheriffs busy Wednesday with roving picket lines outside major classroom buildings. Six students were arrested.

Windows of parked police buses were shattered and numerous bomb threats were received at campus facilities, officers said. No bombs were found.

Fist fights broke out between picketers and students who sought to enter classroom buildings. The city withdrew its buses after several vehicles were halted by protesters who or campus intersections.

The disorders started last week when black students made 13 demands, including the creation of a separate black studies department.

Ike's Son to Be Envoy to Belgium

WASHINGTON (AP) — John S. D. Eisenhower, son of the former president, is expected to be named ambassador to Belgium. There was no immediate word on when the nomination, reportedly in the works for a month, would be announced.

But there was speculation it would be on or before President Nixon's arrival in the Belgian capital of Brussels, first stop on the five-nation European tour he begins Feb. 23.

The 46-year-old Eisenhower, a retired Army colonel who has just written a book about World War II action in Belgium, was vacationing in the Bahamas and was not immediately available for comment.

The Brussels post is now occupied by Ridgway B. Knight, a career diplomat. Although it is the city that serves as headquarters for NATO and the European Common Market, the United States has separate—and completely independent—ambassadors in those key spots.

If confirmed, Eisenhower will step into his first official government post since serving his father as a White House military assistant from 1958 to 1961. The Army awarded him the Legion of Merit for "illustrious service" in that job.

Eisenhower went on indefinite leave without pay after his father left the White House to help the older Eisenhower edit his memoirs.

In 1963 he resigned his commission to join the New York publishing house Doubleday, Inc., as a senior editor. He also served for a time as executive vice president of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa., only a few miles from his home in Phoenixville.

Since leaving the Army, Eisenhower has been active in Republican politics. In 1966 he was chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican Primary Campaign Committee and he spoke briefly last summer at the Republican National Convention in Miami.

His recent book, "The Bitter Woods," was about the Battle of the Bulge during World War II which took place around the Belgian towns of Bastogne and St. Vith. Eisenhower served in the European theater. He was in Korea and when Dwight Eisenhower was elected president in 1952.

Eisenhower's son, David, married President Nixon's daughter, Julie, last December. Young Eisenhower is a 1944 graduate of West Point.

Put Sunshine in Hair
Mousy brown or dirty blonde, here's the easiest way to put sunshine in your hair. Add a capful of peroxide to a cup of baby shampoo and mix. Baby shampoo is recommended because a harsh shampoo might contain ingredients that would react with the peroxide and cause the mixture to irritate your scalp. Work up a lather and allow it to remain on your hair for 10 minutes, then wash as usual and rinse thoroughly with warm water. For further lightening, you can add the juice of half a lemon to the final rinse water and dry your hair in the sunlight. There will be no drastic change in hair color—just a lighter and brighter shine.

Post Office Fly by Night Mail Delivery Service Is Deadly

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's fly-by-night effort to speed mail deliveries with small airplanes is racking up a fatal accident rate twice as bad as that for the average pilot.

Safety experts accuse the Post Office Department of a mail-must-go-through attitude that forces flying in the face of the storied dangers of snow, rain and the gloom of night.

The Post Office Department replies its safety standards for hauling a bag of mail are stiffer than requirements for similar air taxi outfits that carry passengers.

In little more than a year, nine mail planes have gone down, killing 13 persons.

In two-thirds of the crashes, the pilots were flying blind in bad weather, relying on cockpit instruments for guidance.

Despite the fact the pilots must be certified by the Federal Aviation Administration for instrument flying, a top FAA official admits the pilots' experience often is spotty.

The Post Office Department started the short-haul overnight flights about a year and a half ago, awarding contracts on a low-bid basis to private air taxi firms to try for one-day delivery of first-class mail throughout most of America.

Nearly one out of every four of the 38 firms listed as flying overnight mail routes already has had a fatal crash.

One mail run in North Carolina survived three nights last September before a crash at Charlotte killed two men and ended service by the contractor, Air Time, a new company.

Another air taxi outfit, also a newcomer to commercial flying, had two fatal crashes in the same day last December. A government investigation is underway.

Using the Post Office's own flight time totals from the beginning of the mail runs in 1967 through the start of this month, a government safety expert computes the fatal accident rate at 5.7 per 100,000 hours.

That's almost exactly twice as high as the 2.9 rate for all non-airline pilots in the nation last year. And it doesn't count the crash that killed one man on a mail run at Red Bank, N.J., last week.

Deputy Asst. Postmaster General Charles A. McIntyre said, "The only explanation we can give is we have 100 per cent of our operations at night. We have the highest standards in safety and equipment. But there's no question about it—this is real husky flying."

The night flights, averaging under 400 miles, often cross rugged, forbidding terrain, particularly in the West. Under postal regulations, decisions on whether to fly in questionable weather are left up to the pilots.

If a pilot doesn't fly, he doesn't get paid.

The schedules and demanding, and any delay affects other mail handling. McIntyre said proudly the pilots on the mail runs have a better record of arriving on time than the big airlines.

But George S. Buchanan, assistant chief of FAA operations, said neither the propeller planes nor the pilots are prepared for such tight nighttime schedules.

As for the pilots, Buchanan added, "The level of their experience is pretty thin in spots."

The FAA concedes its air taxi safety standards were written for the jitney age, and says it is updating and toughening the regulations to insist on more training and more testing. This process, however, won't be complete until late this year.

The air taxi outfits involved in flying the 200 mail routes cost the government $6 million annually. The Post Office views the planes as replacements for the overnight milk and mail trains, now vanishing into America's past.

The head of a large air taxi operation on the East Coast complained that the Post Office Department's low-bid contracts prompt small outfits to submit prices that cut corners on costs. He says the result is a low-profit, high-risk run with safety caught in the cost squeeze.

McIntyre denied this and said low bidders who don't meet safety standards are turned down. He added that the Post Office has warned pilots it will yank contracts if they try to fly in impossible weather.

"It is a fact we want the mail to go through," he said. "But we don't want to lose the whole program over a bit of foolishness."

For its mail runs, the Post Office requires twin-engine planes, or larger, equipped for instrument flying. They also must have automatic pilot equipment if no co-pilot is aboard. Pilots must have 1,000 hours of flying experience, with nighttime and bad-weather qualifications.

Nearly half the air taxi firms handling the mail routes are either new or had no bad-weather instrument flying licenses until

Turnback Money Control Up to House

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An attempt by the city directors of Fort Smith to control the expenditure of state gasoline turnback and the three-mill county road tax in the city rests on the outcome of a bill in the Arkansas House.

The city officials contend that they should have jurisdiction of the funds because Sebastian County is divided into an upper and lower district and that the city composes the entire upper district.

Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith introduced the measure, House Bill 295, that would apportion the 3-mill road tax collections collected in the city to the city.

The House City and County Affairs Committee recommended passage of the bill earlier this week.

Nowotny said that the Fort Smith Chamber of Commerce and some of the county officials oppose his bill.

He said the opponents contend that there has always been a good working relationship between the city and county.

"This is true," Nowotny said, "but the city never knows how generous the county will be and therefore cannot plan a budget for street expenditures."

Under existing law, the road tax and the state turnback is apportioned separately for use in the two districts of the county. Therefore, all of the money in the upper district must be spent on roads in Fort Smith.

Nowotny contends that the city could better expend those funds. He also says that a surplus of $350,000 exists in the upper district road fund, money that could have been used to make needed repairs.

His bill may reach the floor for final passage today or Friday.

The Post Office began the runs. The largest, Sedalia, Marshall and Booneville Stage Line, Inc., with a million-dollar aerial mail business in a dozen states, got its license for commercial flying less than two years ago. One of its pilots was killed in a storm over Kansas last October.

Another young firm had two fatal crashes within four hours, one on a mail run, the other a passenger flight.

The mail pilot was flying through a winter storm over the mountains of northern Idaho when he radioed he had lost an engine and was dropping lower and lower among the peaks. His last words, heard by a neighboring plane, were, "I just missed that one."

At dawn the same day, a fellow pilot tried to stop a takeoff on a passenger flight after telling the tower an engine had failed. The plane skidded on the icy runway and plunged into Yellowstone River 80 feet below, killing one of the six passengers.

McIntyre said the firm, Combs-Pickens Montana Aircraft Co., was told to halt flights on the Idaho route and to suspend another run until it could provide satisfactory planes. The FAA confirmed it has launched a routine review of Combs-Pickens' air tax certificate.

Late last month the FAA handed down a wide-ranging series of proposals to tighten the safety standards sometime this fall for the 4,000 or more air taxi firms licensed to fly passengers and cargo.

The FAA called for tougher experience requirements for pilots, a regular testing program for the fliers, training programs for mechanics and periodic aircraft inspections.

McIntyre said the department is doing all it can.

Egypt Also Supporting Guerrillas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egypt has joined the group of Arab nations providing bases and support for guerrilla fighters attacking Israel, the Israelis have charged at the United Nations.

Israeli delegate Yosef Tekoah told the Security Council Wednesday that nine Bedouin war refugees the Israelis captured in the Sinai Desert Jan. 15-16 admitted they were sent across the Suez Canal by the Egyptian military intelligence service.

Previous Israeli charges of guerrilla support were directed at Jordan, Syria and Lebanon.

Israel seized the Sinai Desert from Egypt during the 1967 war.

Tekoah's charges were made in a letter to Armand Berard, the French president of the Security Council this month.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant reported that U.N. observers along the Suez Canal had noted numerous rifle shots and machine-gun bursts fired from the Egyptian side Monday and Tuesday. The U.N. chief observer, Lt. Gen. Odd Bull, "believes the situation to be serious," Thant said.

Bull reported his observers could not verify claims by the Egyptians that the Israelis had been firing, too. He said an Israeli officer calmed the Egyptians were "continuously sniping at any movement" on the east bank of the canal.

Egypt continued to give indications of its desire to resume diplomatic relations with the United States, which Cairo broke during the 1967 war. A spokesman asked an official spokesman in Cairo, Mohammed Hassan el Zayyat, whether the delivery of 50 U.S. Phantom jets to Israel would affect resumption of relations between Washington and Cairo. Zayyat replied that President Johnson gave the Israelis a firm commitment for the planes last summer, and the Nixon administration is obliged to follow through.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — By mid-afternoon Thursday, the world's youngest 39-year-old violinist had been so busy answering telephone calls and being interviewed by relays of journalists that he was still in pajamas and dressing gown. The debris of a late breakfast still occupied a table in the living room of his hotel suite.

Jack Benny, born in Waukegan, Ill., on Feb. 14, 1894, will be celebrating his 39th birthday — again — on Friday. The birthday is a milestone, but since Jack has an NBC special coming up next Monday, it seemed less important than making sure Benny fans would tune in.

"When you do a few specials as I do—like one a year," explained Jack, with his own brand of earnest, blue-eyed salesmanship, "You've got to make sure that they—the audience—remember when you are on. It's different, of course, when you have a weekly or even a monthly show."

The comedian, after 75 years mostly spent in show business, still frets about his appearances on television as much as a kid with his first booking. "What are you doing in all those gasoline commercials?" was a question asked by several interviewers.

"When it comes that way I know they are after something," said Benny with utter seriousness. "I just ask them why they don't ask me what Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and I are doing in all those commercials. I'll tell you this: It was a fabulous offer and the company was interested in a lot of things. I wouldn't have touched them unless the company had been interested in sponsoring my special. Besides, I love doing them—they relate to me and they make people laugh. So?"

Benny, looks like a man in his 50s. He works, he estimates, about six months out of the year — TV shows, charity concerts, club dates and even an occasional tour. The rest of the time he spends playing what he calls "dreadful golf" in Los Angeles or Palm Springs. His wife, Mary, accompanies her husband on his many trips only when he expects to be away from home for a prolonged period. They moved into an apartment several years ago but "Mary felt cooped up," and they expect to move back into a Beverly Hills house again soon, they also have a home in Palm Springs. His health is excellent.

Bobcats to Take on Washington

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Coming around the final turn of the '68-69 campaign, the Hope Bobcats take road trips this weekend to Texarkana Washington on Friday night and to Arkadelphia on Saturday evening for 4-AA Western Division contests.

Hope presently is embedded in the 4-AA West cellar with an 0-6 conference mark, but the Cats have shown marked offensive improvements of late.

Several weeks back, Texarkana Washington's Lions ripped the nets for 65 per cent in the second half for an 83-66 win over the Bobcats at Jones Field House, but this time around the locals have a better perception of what they're up against.

Lion Ricky Collins sacked 33 points in that first outing, all from the outside. Guards Walton Gamble and Kishby Watson also head up a stingy defense for long shooters, and Gamble can hit.

Postman Yates Jones at 6-4 is a good rebounder, but scores few points and is relieved by Wendell Latimore, who scored 15 second half points against Hope earlier. The other starter is forward Tracy Davis, a good shooter worth at least 12 points a game, but he does have a knack for fouling.

Under Coach Whitaker Heller, Texarkana Washington has made some amends after a lowly football season, and when hot the Lions are tough to beat. Hope will have to get a good defensive effort with the elimination of unnecessary fouling, which can lose games in the first quarter. Arkadelphia's Badgers whipped Hope 74-43 back in January, and also own a 63-41 win over the Cats at the Ouachita Tournament. The Badgers get most of their points from sophs Bill Hurley, a 6-2 forward, and 6-0 guard Bill Vinling, son of the Ouachita coach of the same name.

The main Badger asset, though, has to be the depth provided by juniors Freddie Lookadoo and Mike McMasters, which keeps starters like Guy Taylor and Noel Wolber in operation. Against Arkadelphia, Hope will have to worry about a jinx of playing in the Arkadelphia gym which has continued for six years. If the score stays low, the Bobcats have better chance of winning, but the Badgers are as deadly as anyone when they get on a scoring binge.

Only the Bobcats and the "B" Lizards are left on the basketball schedule, with the elimination of local teams from two district tournaments this week. Fans interested in seeing some good tournament action, though, have some goodies in store next week. Bradley's famed senior girls, undefeated this year, go for an unprecedented fifth straight Class B championship beginning next Wednesday down at Lewisville, and Magnolia will play host to the State AA Junior Boys Championship. Finally the District 7-A Senior Boys tournament will be held up at Prescott, and it should be the best one of all.

In the 7-A field are Mena, one of the top-ranked Class A schools with a good 18-3 record, and the always-tough Magnolia Columbia Owls, who are 23-4 this year after making the state semifinals last winter. Also entered are Ashdown, Nashville, DeQueen, Gurdon, Hope Yergers, Arkadelphia Peake, and the host Prescott Curley Wolves. This one also begins next Wednesday evening.

Little Rock Silents to Play at Spring Hill

The Spring Hill Boys Independent Basketball Team is sponsoring a benefit fun night at the Spring Hill Gym Saturday, Feb. 15, beginning at 6:30. Proceeds from the game will be used to purchase uniforms for the team.

The first game pits the "Odd Balls" against the Arkia Gas Team. In the second contest the "Little Nuts". In the third game Perry's Truckers face the Little Rock Silents.

Admission will be $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Prediction by Coach Came True

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Just as Coach Gene Shue predicted, the Baltimore Bullets didn't fold after the crippling injury to All-Star forward Gus Johnson.

The Bullets, with fine support from the bench, whipped the San Francisco Warriors 120-110 Wednesday night for their fourth victory in five starts since Johnson was sidelined for the season with a knee injury.

Baltimore leads the Eastern Division by three games over New York with Philadelphia four games behind although in second place.

"I guess deep down inside I expected a let-down," Shue admitted after Wednesday's game. "But I never said that publicly, and I really did think the other players would take up the slack."

Seven of the eight Bullets who played against the Warriors scored in double figures.

It was Earl Monroe who led the way again, with 29 points. He scored 10 points in both the second and third periods, leading a comeback after San Francisco had taken an 11-point lead.

Kevin Loughery chipped in with 21 points and Ray Scott picked off 21 rebounds while scoring 16 points.

Scott has assumed a starting role in the absence of Johnson, but the move hasn't hurt the Baltimore benchstrength.

"I guess we've proven that the bench everyone talked about was for real," said forward Jack Marin.

"Gus has been a great player for us," Shue said. "We'll really miss him on defense, but so far everyone else has tried a little harder. Ed Manning has been tremendous considering how much he has played all season."

Nate Thurmond scored half of his 28 points for the Warriors in the final quarter, but the Bullets were safely on top by then. Jeff Mullins had 23 points, but only five after halftime.

Carpenter Assistant to Lombardi

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
Not a forward pass was thrown, not a tackle was made nor a touchdown scored. But, off the field, there was a lot doing in professional football Wednesday.

Clive Rush, new head coach of the Boston Patriots of the American League, got things off to an electrifying start.

Speaking at a press conference in Boston which introduced George Sauer, Sr. as the Patriots' new general manager, Rush received an electric shock when he wrapped his hand around a microphone.

Dr. John Knight, who examined Rush, said the shock passed from one of Rush's arms to the other via the shoulders. He said Rush was not hurt seriously, but had the current traveled any other route the shock could have been much more severe.

A spokesman for the Patriots said he didn't know what happened to the microphone, but that it had a special converter that reduced the electrical power from the wall plug from 110 to 30 volts.

Vince Lombardi, new head man of the Washington Redskins, named a six-man coaching staff. Zeke Bratkowski became an assistant coach of the Green Bay Packers and Norb Hecker, former coach of the Atlanta Falcons was reported to have signed as chief defensive coach of the New York Giants in the National League.

In other developments, Bill Barnes, head coach of the Charleston CFL club last year, was named an assistant by the New Orleans Saints; Ken Carpenter, Washington backfield coach in 1968, became head coach of the Indianapolis CFL team, and Ralph Hawkins joined the Buffalo Bills of the AFL as linebacker coach.

Harland Sware, former boss of the Los Angeles Rams, Bill Austin, ex-head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers, George Dickson, formerly with New Orleans, Lew Carpenter, ex-Minnesota, Mike McCormack, formerly with Cleveland Browns, and Don Doll, once with Detroit, were the six named as assistants to Lombardi.

Sware will handle the defense, Austin the offense, Dickson, offensive backfield, Carpenter, offensive ends, McCormack, defensive line and Doll the defensive backs.

Bratkowski, a quarterback, declined to say whether he would continue as a player for Green Bay as well as help coach the offensive backfield.

Pair Helping the Bullets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The two men who play in backcourt are helping keep the Baltimore Bullets in front in the National Basketball Association's hectic Eastern Division.

Earl Monroe scored 29 points and Kevin Loughery added 21 as the Bullets turned back San Francisco 120-110 Wednesday night. That kept them three games in front of New York and four ahead of Philadelphia.

Elsewhere, New York downed Phoenix 112-105, Boston topped Detroit 113-106, Atlanta knocked off Milwaukee by the same 113-106 score, San Diego outlasted Cincinnati 118-114 and Los Angeles walloped Seattle 109-92.

In the American Basketball Association, Dallas whipped Minnesota 125-108 and Houston defeated Los Angeles 130-122.

Monroe scored 20 of his 29 points in the middle two periods to lead Baltimore to its fourth victory in five games since losing all-star forward Gus Johnson for the season. The flashy guard also had seven assists while running mate Loughery was credited with eight.

Pistol Pete Hits 50 But Team Loses

By MIKE BRYSON

Associated Press Sports Writer
A pair of super stars were really in there hitting—one literally—but it didn't accomplish anything for either.

Sensational Spencer Haywood, the hero of the United States' Olympic basketball team, was tossed out of the game in the second half for striking an official as Detroit edged Toledo 92-90 Wednesday night.

Haywood was ejected with 16:55 left for slugging referee George Struthers during an argument over a personal foul. He had scored 24 points and grabbed 16 rebounds to that point.

Several fans and both teams spilled onto the floor after the flareup, but police quickly restored order. Ironically, extra police had been assigned to the game at Toledo because of threats of racial incidents by campus radicals.

Fabulous Pistol Pete Maravich also was hitting Wednesday night—but with a basketball. However, the end result was another frustration for the nation's scoring leader.

The Louisiana State sharpshooter drilled in 50 points—but it was all for naught as the Tigers bowed before Southeastern Conference foe Florida 95-79.

What makes the whole thing exasperating for the mop-haired junior was that just three nights before Pete had rammed in 66 points. . . In a losing cause against Tulane.

Meanwhile, the only three teams in The Associated Press' Top 20 in action had an easy night of it—No. 5 La Salle stopped American University 96-72, No. 11 Villanova checked off Canisius 75-54 and No. 15 New Mexico State whipped Texas-El Paso 78-62.

Maravich has been bothered by a bad knee and a sore ankle, but it didn't prevent him from scoring nearly two-thirds of his team's points. In fact, Pistol Pete almost singlehandedly kept LSU in the game during the early going, scoring 19 of the Bayou Bengals first 23 points.

But Florida, which had a 34-point showing from 6-foot-10 Neal Walk and 23 from junior Andy Owens, broke from a 23-23 tie to a 39-32 halftime command, and LSU didn't threaten after that.

LaSalle bombarded helpless American U. with a balanced attack in running its record to 19-1. The Explorers had six men in double figures, topped by Larry Cannon's 18.

American U., surprisingly, kept within striking distance in the middle Atlantic Conference game until La Salle outscored the Eagles 16-3 midway in the second half to take a 73-47 lead. Villanova's Howard Porter and John Jonesteamer for 49 points—and at the right time—in beating Canisius in the nightcap of a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia.

Porter, a sophomore, scored 16 of his 27 points in the opening half in guiding Villanova to a 35-28 advantage. Then Jones, a senior, scored 14 of his 22 points in the final half to keep Canisius at bay.

Temple turned back Penn State 70-50 in the first game of the doubleheader.

New Mexico State rang up a 24-5 lead during the first 11 minutes, then coasted the rest of the way in beating Texas-El Paso for the third time this season.

Sam Lacey, 6-foot-9, led the way with 23 points as the Aggies boosted their record to 20-2. Bob Kouwe scored 27 points and Bill Smith 25 as Syracuse edged past Colgate 87-86.

In another squeaker, Bob Staak hit a 10-foot jumper at the buzzer to give Connecticut a 74-72 conquest of Boston University.

Disaster Hits, Oaks Lose Two in Row

OAKLAND (AP) — Are the Oakland Oaks human after all?

After whizzing through the first two-thirds of the American Basketball Association season at a record-setting won-lost clip, the Oaks were hit by disaster. They lost two games in a row.

The Houston Mavericks, last in the Western Division, beat the Oaks twice this week in Oakland the first time this season the club has lost two in a row. The Oaks now are 40-8.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Round-faced, crew cut Mark Donohue could become the most overworked man in auto racing this year—if, indeed, he isn't already.

The 30-year-old driver-engineer from Media, Pa., is the star of the Roger Penske racing team. Last year he won 17 of the 25 professional road races he entered, garnered two national titles and counted at least $100,000 in winnings.

Flushed with that success, the team plans an all-out assault in four major divisions of motorsports this season. By winning the recent 24-Hours of Daytona the team already has taken a giant step that could bring Penske his first World Manufacturer's Championship.

Penske, a wealthy Pennsylvania and former driver, has hooked up with Lola Cars, Ltd., Canisius 75-54 and No. 15 New Mexico State whipped Texas-El Paso 78-62.

Longer School Days Likely in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Some 285,000 pupils may have 55 days tacked on to their summer vacations this year if the nation's fourth largest city is unable to provide emergency funds for its public schools.

This warning came Wednesday from School Board President Richardson Dilworth.

"If there is no relief for the largest school district in the state," he said, "it will close and become completely bankrupt."

Some 12,500 teachers, as well as hundreds of nonprofessional employees, would be affected by such an early close.

Dilworth said he has no hope the state will come to the rescue and little hope that the Pennsylvania legislature would move to permit Philadelphia to enact legally a recently invalidated $44.5 million dollar tax package.

Dilworth is currently seeking a $12-million increase in the real estate tax, which is approved, would provide public schools with an immediate injection of $49 million. He claims such an amount would carry the city through its current school year.

The levy was one of several the state supreme court declared invalid last week because of a state law prohibiting hikes during the course of a budget period.

The School Board president said lawyers planned to file a petition with the high court asking for a rehearing on its earlier decision.

"I am so desperate I'll accept anything the administration will agree to," he said.

Dilworth warned that if legislative aid was not extended to the city's school system, it would have no alternative but to shut down.

House Speaker Herbert Fine, D-Philadelphia, said legislation to support the School Board's request won't be introduced before next week at the earliest.

He added, however, he was "quite confident that relief will be forthcoming."

Lamar Tech Loses But Still Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lamar Tech lost its first game of the season but held onto first place in The Associated Press' weekly small college basketball poll.

The Cardinals from Beaumont, Tex., had racked up 15 straight before they were tumbled by Texas-Arlington, a major college team, 76-71. They then boosted their record to 16-1 by edging Trinity, Tex., 93-92 in overtime.

Ashland, Ohio, remained in second place with an 18-1 record but Kentucky Wesleyan, once the No. 1 team, advanced from sixth to third with victories over Evansville and Delta State.

The 86-80 triumph over Evansville avenged an earlier one-point loss to the Aces, Kentucky Wesleyan's record is 17-3.

The poll was based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 7.

Lamar Tech received seven of the 15 first-place votes cast by a national panel of sports writers and sportscasters. The Cardinals had a total of 268 points.

Ashland received four first-place ballots and 238 points. Kentucky Wesleyan didn't get a first-place vote but piled up 195 points. Fairmont, W.Va., got one first-place vote and 193 points for fourth place.

Then came: 5, Stephen F. Austin, 189; 6, Trinity, Tex., 152; 7, Southwestern, La., 149; 8, Long Beach State, 112; 9, South Dakota State, 80, and 10, U. Nevada-Las Vegas, 80.

The Nevada school advanced from 11th to 10th as Wittenberg, 10th a week ago, fell to 12th.

Arkansas' Salb Sets a Record

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Karl Salb, of Crossett, Ark., Kansas' sophomore shotputter, recorded the second best college indoor put in leading the Jayhawks to an easy track victory over Southern Illinois and Oklahoma State Wednesday night.

Kansas chalked up 101 points to SU's 35 and Oklahoma State's 26.

Salb's toss of 65 feet, 5/4 inches set an Allen fieldhouse record and was the best in college circles this year. Neal Steinhauer holds the shotput record of 67-10.

Steve Wilhelm of Kansas outdistanced his fieldhouse record of 60-10 with a put of 62-5.4 for second place.

KU's Ron Jessie took the high jump at 6-6 and the long jump at 25 feet, one-half inch.

George Byers of Kansas won the 60-yard low hurdles in 8.8 and the 60-yard high hurdles in 7.2.

Jerry Hinton of Southern Illinois took the mile in 4:09.8 and the half-mile in 1:53.

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiations between the baseball owners and players in the pension dispute "hit a snag" Wednesday according to John Caharin, spokesman for the owners.

Caharin said negotiations would resume today.

Cambodia, U.S. Are Talking

By SPENCER DAVIS

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Department officials deny there has been a message exchange or other formal contact between President Nixon and Cambodian Chief of State Prince Norodom Sihanouk about restoring diplomatic relations.

Although the officials did say the question was "under study," their reaction was in sharp disagreement with a statement earlier this week by the Cambodian foreign minister that Prince Sihanouk had answered a letter from Nixon on the possibility of re-establishing ties.

Cambodia broke off relations with the United States May 3, 1965 following a long period of antagonism between the two countries over the Vietnam war.

The United States and its allies in South Vietnam charged that the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops used Cambodia as a supply source and sanctuary.

Cambodia complained the South Vietnamese and Americans constantly violated its borders.

These same problems still plague relations between the two nations and would have to be resolved if diplomatic ties are restored.

Another formidable obstacle to friendly relations is posed by Sihanouk's expressed desire to see American troops take their weapons with them when they leave South Vietnam.

In preparing for the time when a U.S. withdrawal can take place, American authorities are building the supply of weapons, aircraft and warships available to South Vietnam. This has worried Sihanouk whose army of 35,000 men is poorly equipped compared with the 800,000 men under arms in Vietnam.

Prince Sihanouk also has said all Americans must be withdrawn from Vietnam because this is the will of the people.

Youth Beat

THE NATIONAL REPORT ON WHAT'S HAPPENING

WRIGHT BROTHERS THINKING: A Civil Aeronautics Board hearing examiner has recommended that youth fares be dropped by the country's 24 airlines. His reasoning is a thing of beauty: "Special fares for the 12-to-21 age group are unjustly discriminatory." Teens wonder who appeared in their behalf to answer the man's absurd arguments that included, "Although youth fares are available to everyone in the specified age group, this attribute does not excuse the discrimination unless age is a proper foundation for the discrimination." Where has he been for the last 25 years? Discrimination against the teen-age group is everywhere. Here is a case whereby being young results in mutual benefits... for the airlines and young America. Along comes a passionate plea for "the rule of equality." Wondering teens ask, "Who's behind such thinking?" They should know that some of the nation's bus companies have gone to court in an effort to halt youth fares on the nation's air carriers. Interesting is the fact that the reporting CAB examiner's name is Arthur S. Present. If his "past" thinking prevails and the CAB takes no further action, youth fares will be out by the first of March. The CAB's address is 1825 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. Write, phone or wire. There's more future than present involved for young America.

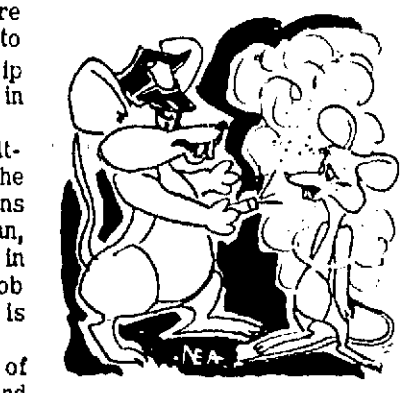

HOT RODS IN RED-HOT CHINA? No chance! Production of automobiles is 30,000 a year. Six thousand are passenger cars. "No way" for safety clinics in Communist China school system. Traffic cops are plagued by bicycles, not gurgling exhaust systems.

SCPTER OF VIRILITY: The gearshift is still No. 1 in Europe. "I like to drive my car. I don't want to be driven by it." Sounds like Speed City, U.S.A. Europeans say automatic shifts are "unmanly." How much of this is industry-induced is suspect. The cost(s) of automatic transmissions in smaller European cars is a factor. The accompanying loss of all-too-limited power is another big watermelon to cover up.

GENETIC SMOKING HANGUP: A smoker's own genetic makeup may help determine how cigarette smoking affects his/her health. A study of 16,000 twins showed an association between those who smoked and serious respiratory symptoms. The "nonsmoking" twins showed up with closely related cardiac symptoms but far fewer of a respiratory nature.

EGYPTIAN SEX EDUCATION: Population explosions are more easily muted in tightly run countries. Egypt has made giant strides in past two years... reaching a third of involved population with significant results. "Population Control," part of high school curriculum, is another title for birth control. It is a compulsory subject. Meanwhile here in the United States, the jurisdictional battle over sex education gets wilder by the hour.

THE NUMBER GAME: Is three a violent word? Interesting finding by Italian research team studying hostility in mice with results aimed at a better "mice" to control aggressive behavior. After one month in isolation, mice developed such aggressiveness that they fought new companions until they dropped from fatigue. When three previously isolated mice were brought together, combat was at its highest. Significantly less fighting was recorded when seven strange mice met. Should be a numerical clue to be seen one lately?

Thinks Snakes Make Fine Campus Pets

By LEE LINDER
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mom won't like Mrs. Pat Brodey's views on snakes. She thinks they make great pets for kids.
And snakes make fine on-campus or off-campus pets, according to two Florida college sophomores.
Mrs. Brodey, 29-year-old animal handler at Philadelphia's Academy of Natural Sciences, says "Most people think there is something inherently evil about reptiles, but that's not so."
But snakes for children? "Snakes make good pets," she insists. "Some common varieties are garter snakes, green snakes and ringneck snakes."
"Milk snakes are good pets too, but a lot of people get them confused with copperheads, which are poisonous."
"Snakes are generally docile, except if they are frightened, and can be fed toads, mice or even sardines. The best way to house them is in a terrarium which contains rocks and plants from the reptile's habitat."
A terrarium, or indoor glass-enclosed garden, probably would have looked pretty fancy to William Jenkins' and Robert Trask's pet snakes at the University of Florida in Gainesville. The sophomores kept Delilah, a 1 1/2 foot python, and Vulcan, an 8 1/2 foot boa constrictor, in foot lockers in their dormitory room.
"Everybody on the whole floor knew about it, and a lot of the guys on the floor were asking me to get them boas and things like that—which I did," Jenkins said. He now keeps the pet at his off-campus house. An unnamed 9-foot python has made it a threesome.
Jenkins says there's something special about his Delilah. "A snake's clean," he said. "It's a lot cleaner than most of these ladies' French poodles, and it doesn't bark. It's kind of an interesting pet."

The New Jersey Bridge League has a monthly publication called "The Declarer" which prints some very good bridge articles. One by Dick Budd, entitled "The Last Drop of Blood," is the basis of today's article.

This hand does not really belong in a publication entitled "The Declarer" unless you want to see a declarer hitting his head against a stone wall.

The game was match point duplicate and the bidding spirited, to say the least. North's three diamond call was quite enterprising and East's double a real gamble. East might well have tried three hearts but he was out for a top score and he sure got one.

The defense started briskly. East signaled with the nine of hearts and West continued with the ace and eight. East was in with the queen and led back the eight of spades.

South went right up with the ace, led a club to dummy's king and finessed his 10 of diamonds. West took his queen and cashed the king of spades for down one. Then he looked around for new worlds to conquer or, specifically, for another trick. He could see that plus 100 for down one would not be a good score.

Finally he hit on the winning defense. He led his fourth heart. This play gave declarer a ruff and a discard but South knew that declarer had nothing worth discarding.

South could have ruffed in dummy and gone down two but South tried to make the contract. He ruffed in his own hand and led his last club. West ruffed and led a spade. East was extra careful not to ruff but declarer was down to trumps and had to, whereupon East still made his king of diamonds for down three.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Leonardo da Vinci's paintings are as rare as they are beautiful. Only 17 authenticated Leonardo paintings survive and some experts say the number is as low as nine. The World Almanac notes. America has only one recognized Leonardo painting, the portrait of Ginevra de Benci, acquired in 1967 by the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C. from Franz Josef II of Liechtenstein for $5 million.

This week we'll make and sell about 9 million donuts!

Wonder why?

Well, maybe it's because we make more types of Donuts than probably any other wholesale baker. We make Golden Donuts, Sugar, Cinnamon, Jelly, Frosted, Homestyle, Glazed and more. Or maybe it's because our Jane Parker Donuts are known to be light and luscious.

Whatever the reason, it's a fact.

We will make and sell about 9 million donuts this week and average nearly the same every week of the year. Such popularity must be deserved.

This week, shop A&P. Visit the Jane Parker Department. Pick any donut variety and discover for yourself why they're so popular.

Hebrew Chant May Have a Latin Accent

By MARGARET GENTRY
Associated Press Writer
TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — If the choir sings the Hebrew chants with a slight Latin accent at Seth Alexander Cohen's bar mitzvah, it's understandable.

The choir at the Jewish ceremony will be Catholic.

Rabbi Bernard Cohen, the boy's father, calls it "a tremendous breakthrough" for a Catholic chorus to sing in Hebrew at the service celebrating a boy's acceptance of the Jewish faith. Sister Marie Brendan, the nun who is teaching the Hebrew chants to the 60-member chorus of St. Mary of the Woods College, thinks the experience will be "exciting and heartwarming." The service will be Feb. 22 at the temple in Terre Haute.

The choir is learning sounds rather than words. "We're learning it in phonetic," Sister Marie said. "The Jewish prayer books are written this way. All the different little signs which are Greek to me are written on one side, and the phonetic pronunciation is written on the other side."

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset

After several weeks of learning the music with just a "la-la-la" chant, the choir then tried it in Hebrew. The girls didn't know what they were singing until Rabbi Cohen took an afternoon to explain.

The music is "more florid and more intricate" than the Gregorian chants of the Catholic services, Sister Marie said. Most American music is written in half-steps, while the Hebrew chants go into quarter tones. "It cuts it up a little bit closer."

He said the Ecumenical service will be "an international first." In addition to the Catholic participants, Protestant leaders of Terre Haute will be invited.

It all began about four years ago when the rabbi became a full-time faculty member at the Catholic college. He invited the chorus to sing at a regular service at the temple and was so impressed he asked them to return for his son's bar mitzvah.

Try Banana Upside-Down Cake for a Change

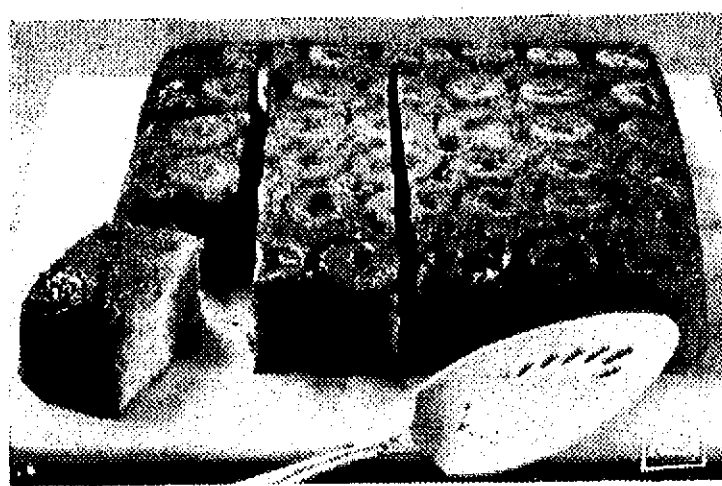

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Instead of the usual pineapple upside-down cake, try making one with bananas.

This recipe uses mashed bananas in the batter and covers the bottom of the pan with sliced bananas (which, of course, become the top layer of the upside-down cake). Serve with whipped cream or peanut butter fluff.

UPSIDE-DOWN BANANA CAKE

- 3/4 cup margarine
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 1/2 cups mashed ripe bananas (about 4 medium)
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs
- 2 medium bananas, sliced
- Grease 9x9x2-inch baking

Banana upside-down cake.

pan. Blend 1/4-cup of the margarine and brown sugar; spread in prepared pan. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and baking soda together; set aside. Stir lemon juice into mashed bananas. Blend together the other 1/2-cup margarine and sugar. Add bananas. Bake in 350-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes or until cake springs back when touched lightly with finger. Cool 5 minutes, then remove from pan. Serve with Peanut Butter Fluff.

NOTE: Plan to serve cake the same day it is baked since the bananas will darken on standing.

PEANUT BUTTER FLUFF

- 2 tablespoons peanut butter
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup heavy cream, chilled

Mix peanut butter, light corn syrup, sugar and salt together. Stir in heavy cream. Whip with rotary beater until mixture forms soft peaks when beater is raised. Use as frosting, topping or filling for cake or refrigerator dessert. Makes about 2 cups.

Agricultural Extension Service Plan No. 597605, available at your County Extension Office.

Here is a moderately sized three bedroom house plan with long, low appearance which could possibly meet your needs.

The carport entrance is on the end of the house with outside storage providing easy access to both the front door and the door leading to the kitchen.

The U-shaped kitchen provides adequate space for meal preparation with a convenient dining area.

The utility room is provided adjacent to the back entrance. This plan provides an alternate bath and utility arrangement, which ever best meets your individual needs.

Three moderately sized bedrooms with ample storage are provided.

The traffic pattern isolates the formal living area, sleeping area and the utility area. This compact arrangement encloses 1440 square feet of heating area.

This plan utilizes a concrete slab floor with a low pitched roof in order to provide low silhouette. By utilizing perimeter insulation the concrete floor can be warm and dry.

Working drawings of this plan can be obtained from the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Office free of charge by requesting a copy of Plan No. 597605.

SHOWBEAT

Bored Babs Splits The Peyton Scene

By DICK KLEINER
NEA Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) Barbara Parkins is leaving Hollywood—indeed, she says.

Peyton Place's loss is Trafalgar Square's gain. Barbara is heading for London. Eventually, she'd like to live in Paris, but she's doing things gradually—London first, then Paris.

"I've just gotten bored with life in Los Angeles," she says. "Not so much bored professionally—although the last four months of Peyton Place were terribly boring—but just bored with the whole scene here."

"I don't play tennis. I don't play golf. The things I like to do are more European—I want to learn to ski and I want to learn to be a connoisseur of wine."

She says what she really wants to do, in her heart of hearts, is go around the world.

"But it's no fun to go around the world alone," she says. "That should be done with a man. There are plenty of volunteers, but nobody I want to go with."

There are some other departures from Los Angeles—John Banner, of Hogan's Heroes, is off to make a movie in Yugoslavia, for one. He has had problems getting movie roles that he wants to do during the show's off season. Last year, he had a serious role lined up, but the producer reneged—"He said the public would see me and laugh automatically," John says.

Tommy Leonetti is leaving for Australia for between six months and a year. He has become a big television personality on that continent, with a Johnny Carson-type of show on the Australian network. He says he has become "totally immersed" in Australian life, reads five Australian newspapers a day and has written, with Bobby Troup, a song called "My City of Sydney" which tells of his love for that city.

When it's Emmy time in the old corral, I look for Henry Beckman to get one. He plays Captain Clancey on ABC's Here Come the Brides, and this is one of the finest characterizations the home screen has seen.

I've known Henry quite awhile, and I didn't recognize him when I first saw the show. Henry says that even his wife didn't recognize him. The public doesn't, either—on screen, he's an old drunk, in person, he's a good-looking guy in his 40s.

"I copied Clancey," Henry says. "after a lot of drunken Irishmen I've known. One in particular had been an Irish revolutionary as a young man. One day, they were drawing straws to see who would kill an informant, and this man drew the short straw. He shot—and missed. That same day, he ran off and made it to New York and he's been drunk ever since."

He got the part when E. G. Swackhammer, who directed the pilot, recommended him. Swack and Henry had been actors together on Broadway in "The Silver Tassels" in '46.

Incidentally, Swack and Bridget Hanley, the show's resident beauty, are engaged in the show. Bridget is desperately in love with a character named Jeremy.

"I told my younger son, Stewart, that Bridget was going to marry Swack," Henry says. "And Stewart said, 'Oh, no, she HAS to marry Jeremy.'"

Gypsum is the rock used to make plaster.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

If we recognize that food, water, fire and alcohol are a part of life for a large proportion of the adult population, we must also recognize that any one of them can destroy a man unless it is controlled. The watchword is prevention.

In the case of alcohol it is well, first of all, to remember that persons who take only two drinks every day have a death rate that is 15 per cent higher than that of those who don't drink. There is always grave danger of alcoholism when a person drinks to get happy rather than because he is happy.

Dr. W. B. Terhune, an authority on the subject, lists the following rules for the avoidance of alcoholism:

Never take a drink because you "need" it.

Sip your drinks slowly and allow at least a half hour between them.

Make two or three drinks your limit.

Take diluted drinks—never straight or on the rocks.

Don't drink every day.

Know the exact amount of alcohol you are getting—don't just pour a wee dropie out of the bottle.

Don't make "luncheon," "before dinner," "a little nightcap" or "celebrating because it's Thursday" an excuse to have a drink.

If you need to unwind. take a short nap or a shower.

Never take a drink in the morning.

An interesting experiment was conducted by a group of psychiatrists in Philadelphia on three alcoholics for whom all efforts at treatment had failed. They took movies of the men while they were drunk and showed them the films after they sobered up. Although this is not a guaranteed cure, these three saw for the first time that it was the alcohol and not some mysterious outside force that had caused their trouble. They all stopped drinking.

Nixons Honor Mrs. Longworth

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Nixon joined the guests Wednesday night at the party honoring Alice Roosevelt Longworth on her 85th Birthday.

Mrs. Longworth, the daughter of President Theodore Roosevelt, has been the guest of every president at the White House since her father presided. She attended the Nixon's first private dining party Jan. 29.

Nixon left Mrs. Longworth's home on Massachusetts Avenue after 45 minutes to return to the White House for a dinner party. "We enjoyed talking about old times," the President said. "She called me 'Mr. President' and that embarrassed me a little."

Later at the party for a small group of friends, Mrs. Roosevelt began to call him "Dick."

Destruction of Data Not Supervised

By RICHARD E. MEYER
Associated Press Writer
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — A member of the USS Pueblo's intelligence detail says he saw no one supervising destruction of secret material before North Koreans took over the ship.

Communications Technician I.C. David L. Ritter, of Menlo Park, Calif., was quoted by the Navy Wednesday as saying he saw the intelligence unit's commander, Lt. Stephen Harris, in the intelligence center at the time "but no one was really supervising" destruction.

Layton's and Ritter's testimony was in an official Navy summary of closed sessions Tuesday before a court of inquiry.

The five-admiral court heard no witnesses Wednesday, spending the day reviewing the 1,700 pages of testimony so far.

The court planned the same schedule today, although there was a possibility some witnesses might be called late in the day, the Navy said.

The admirals want to be sure all questions about the capture are answered before taking testimony on the "months the Pueblo crew spent in prison, the Navy added.

In previous testimony in open court, Harris has said he told his men to destroy the papers and equipment they were working with when the destruct order came from the skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher.

Trying to Match U.S. Atomic Striking Power Has Russia in Strain

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense strategists believe the Soviet Union is anxious for talks limiting nuclear weapons because of severe economic strain from efforts to catch up with U.S. atomic striking power.

That's why American officials, although also hopeful such talks can begin, are setting as a precondition at least a start toward settling such problems as the Vietnam war and the Middle East crisis.

Pentagon authorities say Russia supplies about 80 per cent of North Vietnam's military support. Thus, in their view, the Soviet Union could bring pressure on Hanoi toward a peace settlement.

Russia, as a major arms supplier to the Arabs, also could apply leverage for a Middle East solution, according to this reasoning.

Defense analysts see a direct relationship between U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war and Russia's two-year drive to close the nuclear gap.

According to this view, the commitment of $25 billion and more a year to the Vietnam war has inhibited the United States in maintaining its nuclear superiority over Russia.

While the United States was pouring such amounts into Vietnam, U.S. analysts say, the Soviet Union was spending only about $3 billion helping Hanoi.

Yet Russia, it is believed, is in economic trouble because it has been heavily outspending the United States on expensive strategic weapons while its total national output is only about one half that of the United States.

In the past two years, the Soviet Union has increased land-based intercontinental missile launchers from 570 to more than 900.

Sirhan Plea Likely to Be Changed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The defense moved for a mistrial today in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial because of a newspaper story saying he might plead guilty to the murder of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sirhan Sirhan's trial moves into the testimony phase today with a question only the young Jordanian and his attorneys can answer: Will he now plead guilty to assassinating Robert F. Kennedy?

The question with its possible risks of life and death occupied Sirhan and his defenders for more than an hour Wednesday — a Lincoln's Birthday holiday break between Tuesday's final selection of alternate jurors and today's opening statements by attorneys.

The jury, eight men and four women and the six alternates, was locked up for the first time Wednesday night. Part of a floor in the Billmore Hotel will be their home the rest of the trial and their perusal of newspapers and television will be sharply monitored.

Even as the jurors assembled, reports circulated widely that the 24-year-old Sirhan had given in to pressures to change his plea from innocent with the understanding that the prosecution, in turn, would help him get life imprisonment.

But other reports had him clinging stubbornly to the innocent plea in order that his side of the story get the widest circulation.

California law makes no distinction of whether a person pleads guilty to a charge of first degree murder or is convicted of the charge after pleading not guilty. A jury still sits as a penalty panel and its choices are two: death or life imprisonment.

"No deal has been made with any parties," said a spokesman for Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger.

But Russell E. Parsons, one of three defense lawyers, said, "I have talked about the possibility of a guilty plea with the prosecution right from the beginning."

WR's Tax Program Hopes Dim

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's hopes of pushing a massive tax program through the Arkansas General Assembly appeared considerably dimmer Wednesday when the House defeated the mildest tax proposal of them all — a documentary stamp tax on the transfer of real property.

The measure, which would generate about $500,000 annually through a tax of 55 cents per $500 value on the transfer of real property, tumbled 37-49, with 51 votes needed for passage.

Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith, the minority leader, had attempted to push the tax bill through two special sessions last year. His lack of success then was no less than it was Wednesday.

The bill, which has virtually been beaten to death by the lower chamber, was kept alive when Rep. Herbert C. Rule III of Little Rock served notice of reconsideration.

It was a day of rejection in the House. The representatives defeated three other measures — one to create a Commission on Higher Education, another to create a state Board of Tax Appeals and another to prohibit dry counties from receiving alcoholic beverage tax revenues.

The Senate defeated a measure to repeal the exemption from the use tax law enjoyed by utilities, public communications and transportation firms.

The upper chamber passed 29-2 and sent to the governor a House measure that would legalize abortions under several conditions.

Nowotny told his colleagues they were getting their "first chance to vote for a tax that isn't going to hurt anybody."

He received some help from Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock who said, "I think the significance of this roll call will be more important than the revenue the bill will produce. It will determine whether we take a positive attitude toward

Emmet School Funds Are Cut Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare cut off federal funds to three Southern school districts today for failure to comply with federal school desegregation standards.

Finch identified the districts as Greenwood County School District No. 52 in South Carolina, Emmet School District No. 13 in Arkansas, and Chester County in Tennessee.

At Emmet (Nevada County), Supt. Gene Ross, 30, said the district's upper six grades were totally integrated, with all Negro and white pupils at the junior high school and senior high school level attending classes together in the same building.

However, the district has two elementary school buildings, one of them with 30 Negro pupils, the other with 60 white pupils and six Negro pupils.
